The Power of "Kite-eating-wires"

There have been a number of reports of "kite-eating-wires" in the area. The power companies are aware of this and are taking steps to prevent it.

The annual alert to youngsters flying kites in the vicinity of electric wires has come from M. H. Porter, manager of Consumers Power Company's Cadillac District.

Starting with distribution of kite flying safety rules to the schools in this area, Mr. Porter asks parents and teachers to pass on the rules to the youngsters before their kites get tangled in electric equipment in the neighborhood.

"About this same time, each spring," Mr. Porter said, "we experience a sharp increase in calls about youngsters flying kites close to electric poles and wires. One of our suggestions is that the power company be called if a kite gets snagged in a power line. No one should attempt to climb a power pole."

The power companies' suggestions are these:

1. Always use dry wood and paper in your kite.
2. Always fly your kite days when there is no rain.
3. Always avoid busy streets and highways while flying kites.
4. Always fly your kite from TV and radio areas, electric power lines.
5. Always avoid busy fallen wires.
6. Always call the power company if you see a kite snagged in a power line. Do not pull the string or the kite.

"By distributing these rules in the schools," Mr. Porter said, "we hope to avoid a potential tragedy."

Open Every Door

During the month of April, there will come a time when the door of a ring of the door-bell. The caller will be a stranger or often a neighbor already known.

In either case, he or she will be a volunteer of the American Cancer Society, prepared to leave information and asking our support for society's work.

The volunteers will also be one of some 2,000, who each bring out on the "Cancer Crusade" who in a very real way are symbols of Americanism.

The name of this crusade is "voluntarism" and been part of our nation since the days of the pioneers.

High among our domestic hazards today are cancer, and not just the "good old-fashioned" diseases of yesteryear. Many of those have been largely conquered.

The so-called "degenerative" diseases are another matter, however. And perhaps the most mysterious and tragic of them is cancer. Its fundamental cause still remains to be unraveled by research. Even so, much has been done to save lives. More can be. The Cancer Society informs us some 200,000 Americans will be saved this year. An additional 100,000 might be, but won't — unless diagnosis and treatment may come too late.

That is why the information the ASC volunteer brings to the door of yours. But to carry on this work of education, service and research, support must be ours as well.

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

March 29, 1945

The new building housing the Calvary Baptist Church will be dedicated with a sunrise service Easter morning at six o'clock. The church, which is located at 808 Chestnut St., has an auditorium, vestibule and four classrooms. The lot was donated by a member of the congregation and was dedicated May 21, 1944. Ground was broken and construction started May 31, 1944. Pastor of the church is Rev. Floyd D. Barnes, who with Mrs. Barnes came to Grayling from Kalamazoo in 1937. They and their associates realizing a need for a place of worship, started a building fund at that time.

Not even a corporal's guard turned out to vote on the Avalanche's straw vote concerning the city park property but those who did were decidedly against selling any part of the present site. To the first question on the ballot offered by this paper, 57 of those voting said "No" while the affirmative votes totaled 9. The question was "Do you favor selling any of the City Park?"

The post-war opportunities are many at the Dore Manufacturing Company right here in Grayling. Maurice Dore, head of the firm, said today. Increased production calls for the immediate hiring of 20 new employees to take jobs beside the 65 persons already working in the plant, turning out parts for the armed services. The present plant, which occupies 11,000 square feet, will be augmented in the very near future by another structure of 8,000 square feet.

Due then to the coming from chicken pox.

A few friends of the city of Grayling, who are interested in the future of the city, are planning to build a new city hall. The new city hall will be a two-story building, 40 feet high, and will cost about $100,000. It will be built on the site of the old city hall, which was destroyed by fire in 1945.

leave is over. At the First Post Office where had work, 61,151, 237 pieces of mail were handled in one month. All of the mail was addressed to members of the armed services. The post office says one Navy wife numbers each letter consecutively so her husband will know if he has received them all. So far he has received every one of the 502 letters she has written.

John Nametz with 25 points led the St. Louis team in their bid to dethrone the Maroons but, the taller Sharks just couldn't cope with Miller and teammate David Haglund's playmaking, plus hitting for 27 points.

Miller again held a hot hand against Willow Run as he tossed in 38 on 14-5 and still had a chance to pull the Maroons out when he just missed a 15-footer in the last 50 seconds.

Over 2300 fans jammed the local gym for the quarterfinal game here.

Medicare to April 1st

April 1, 1968 will be the last day you can claim medical insurance payments under Medicare for services you received during July, August and September 1966.

According to E. O. Wiley, social security district manager in Traverse City, anyone who had the "doctor-bill" part of Medicare during that period and who had medical bills amounting to more than $50 during the entire last 6 months of 1966 may be eligible for some Medicare payment if it had not already been claimed.

Medicare claims for services rendered between October 1966 and September 1967 may be made through December 31, 1968. The April 1 deadline applies only to services rendered in July, August, and September 1966.

Wiley emphasized that Medicare claims may be made even if the bills for the services have not yet been paid.

Anyone in the Grayling area who needs assistance in applying for Medicare benefits may get in touch with the social security office at the Chamber of Commerce Building, in Gaylord, Michigan. The office is open from 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

If you need help with Medicare claims or any other social security matter but are unable to come to the office because of illness, telephone the Traverse City Social Security office at 946-8360 for assistance.

Are any of the following true of your home?

—The one wire you have the right size for.

—There are too few switches and outlets where you need them — you can never find a good place to plug in the vacuum cleaner.

—Long cords are strung around your living room under furniture and rugs.

—Your toaster, iron and other heating appliances warm up too slowly.

—Lights dim or flicker when the refrigerator motor or other appliances come on.

These are trouble signs! If so much as one of these statements pertains to you, a new booklet from Michigan State University called "Electricity in the Home" will give you some answers!

Know how to tell whether an electrical circuit is overloaded? It's simple.

The average household circuit accommodates 15 amperes. Usually, it's 120 volts. To find wattage, multiply the 15x120, and you know this circuit can handle 1800 watts.

The nameplate on each of your appliances lists the amperes and voltage required. From these, you can figure the wattage. Add the total appliances on the circuit and you'll know.

Call or write Cooperative Extension Service, Roscommon and we will mail you the above mentioned bulletin "Electricity in the Home."

SOIL DISTRICT HEALTH DEPT. TO COOPERATE

By Daniel Kesselring, Work Unit Conservationist

The Crawford - Roscommon Soil Conservation District recently entered into an agreement with the Roscommon County Health Department. The agreement called "Memorandum of Understanding" was written to provide guidelines for working together for the two organizations.

In the agreement the Soil Conservation District and the Health Department agree to cooperate in an effort to prevent soil erosion and water pollution, and to promote good land use.

The Soil Conservation story was the program theme at a recent Roscommon Rotary Club meeting.

Daniel Kesselring, Work Unit Conservationist of the Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District conducted the program.

According to Kesselring, the Soil Conservation story starts far back in history, but major concern in the United States of America started in 1925 during the dust bowl era.

Kesselring stated that, in the early 1930's the primary concern was to prevent soil erosion on agricultural land. As Soil Conservation Districts grew in number they also grew in responsibility. Today Soil Conservation Districts are concerned with erosion control on non-agricultural land as well as agricultural; on urban land as well as rural.

Soil Conservation districts are also concerned with using land or soil properly. Using soil properly and up to its potential can aid the local economy.

To use land properly Soil Conservation Districts provide land management plans for forestry, wildlife, recreation, pasture and cropland. Plans can also be made for communities, organizations, and urban or suburban developments.

School Board Minutes

Report on the School Board Meeting for Feb., 1968

The regular meeting of the Crawford-AuSable School District was called to order by Pres. Paul Dosch at 8:08 p.m. in the high school offices with Pat Harwood absent due to weather conditions. The senior class requested permission to raise the limit placed on each student as to the amount they are allowed to spend as individuals for their class trips. Request granted.

The bids were opened and read for the new bus chassis and bodies. After study by the bus committee bids were accepted on Ward bodies and Chevrolet chassis.

Members of the Curriculum Study Committee appearing before the board with their reporting Chairmen were: Howard Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph King, Jack Woolley and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wieber. Mr. Frause reported on the math department and Mr. Wieland discussed the science department. The board greatly appreciated the information presented and have the recommendations under consideration.

Minutes of the January meeting were read and approved. The financial report was reviewed and invoices approved for payment. The board approved the policy of charging local functions $10.00 an hour for the evening only, when an admission is charged and not for the full day during preparations for the program. The charge for groups from outside the community using the gym would be 50c per person to pay an attendant which we find necessary as more and more use is being made of the facilities. The board approved the use of the elementary gym for an all day meeting of the district Baptist young people.

Mr. Stripe is looking into the cost of installing gates in the halls of the elementary school. These would be used to eliminate roaming during public functions in the activities room. There will be some new desks for the 1st and 2nd grade rooms next year. Miss Carlson requested release from her contract by March 15th. Granted. At eleven o'clock we decided to continue the next night due to the length of the agenda.

We were all present for the continuance of the meeting February 13. Pres. Dosch gave a resume of the first half of the meeting for the benefit of Pat Harwood. Many topics of business were discussed. An agreement to sell was signed with the State Highway Department. They want a piece of school property still owned in Beaver Creek.

The board discussed teacher probation, making it their policy to automatically keep all new teachers on probation for two years.

In the annual election, June 10, 1968 was discussed. We elect one member for four years to fill the expiring term of Paul Dosch. Will possibly vote on operating millage and request electors to transfer Frederic Debt Retirement to General Funds in the amount of $3,314.48.

Secretary Fowler presented the application from CIOER to put their request for electors response to needs for a Special Education Program in the CIOER area plus the 3/4 mill to operate it on our ballot.

We discussed teacher recommendations, trends in State Aid, curriculum and many other pertinent subjects. We adjourned the final session at 10:00 p.m. February 13, 1968.

Secretary, Patricia Fowler

FISHER...

The Porcupine Tamer

The fisher has returned to Michigan, and it appears as though he plans to stay. Sixty-one fishers were released between 1961 and 1963 in the western Upper Peninsula's Ottawa National Forest and another 60 were released at the same time, across the border in Wisconsin's Nicolet National Forest. This dynamic member of the weasel family is noted for its ability to catch, kill, and eat porcupines, a feat not generally attempted by other wildlife. Porcupines, while interesting in themselves, often gnaw and kill trees in valuable stands of timber, or wreak havoc in cabins, or chew up highway signs. For this reason, national forest officials arranged for the fisher releases, hopeful of exercising at least a partial check on porcupine populations. A Wisconsin tally indicates the plan is working. The fisher is truly a remarkable animal. He averages 8 to 10 pounds, which makes him about the size of a large house cat. His legs, however, are shorter than a house cat's and his tail is long and bushy, like that of a fox. Fishers vary in color, but a fine specimen is a rich deep mahogany color with bluish grey-tones and long dark hair which shades into black. The head, neck, and under-parts are usually slightly grizzled, buff in color. The tail is skunk black. Though not aquatic, the fisher is a good swimmer and can catch fish, frogs, and other aquatic species. With the traditional ferocity of the weasel family, he can give a good account of himself against any attack. Although he spends more time on the ground than in trees, he is almost more at home in trees than any other animal. Fishers were found here in fair abundance when the state was young, but retreated before the settler's ax and trapper's trap. His return at this time adds an interesting touch to the wildlife of our northern forest. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Form Committee to Study Mental Retardation

Governor Romney on May 20, 1966 announced the forming of an Inter-Agency Coordinating Committee to study overall State of Michigan workings on mental retardation.

The state has been divided into 19 regions. The state plan calls for the establishment of state interagency coordinating committee counterparts at the local level in addition to representation from the community and private agencies. These committees will work in local areas toward the goal of effecting better coordination and improvement of services for the retarded.

On March 7, 1968, Supt. Basil Godbold, COOR Intermediate District, who has been a member of Region II, started the formation of a local unit which will generally include the area of COOR. New members will be added before the next scheduled meeting on March 28, 1968.

The objectives are specified under Section IV of "Terms and Conditions Governing Mental Retardation Planning Grants" as follows:

A. To Determine what action is needed to combat mental retardation in the state and the resources available for this purpose.

B. To develop public awareness of the mental retardation problems and the need of combating it.

C. To coordinate state and local activities relating to the various aspects of mental retardation and its prevention, treatment, or amelioration.

The committee will be looking forward for help from citizens and local units service so that they may come up with a suggested plan that will improve all aspects of our mental retardation activities in this basic area and coordinate it with the state efforts in Region I.

Basil Godbold, Supt. COOR Intermediate District

Boys and parents from every part of the community area of the Port Huron Council, Boy Scouts of America, gathered Tuesday evening in the Midland Community Center to discuss the 1968 European Adventure planned for Scouts and Explorers this summer.

Louis K. Cramton, member of the planning committee, outlined a suggested listing of things to see and do in Paris during the three-day portion of the trip in that city.

Paul D. Price, Chippewa district Scout executive and one of three adult leaders scheduled to accompany the Scouts on their European expedition, reviewed the three-week itinerary of England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France and covered the necessary preparatory steps for the trip.

He urged the boys to get their requests in for passports as soon as possible and for them to get such shots and vaccinations as recommended.
